Claire was a member of a team of interior designers that merged with Western Contract in April 2010, and brings with her an extensive design education which includes a Master of Science degree in Interior Design from the Pratt Institute in Brooklyn, New York in 2008. She completed her undergraduate work at UC Davis with a Bachelor of Science degree in Environmental Design with an emphasis in Interior Architecture. She has also studied design abroad in Barcelona, Spain and Copenhagen, Denmark.

Through her intensive studies, she has gained a broad understanding of design principles and practices. In her time at Western, she has demonstrated creative and challenging approaches to design, incorporating technical drawing and computing skills with the history and theory of interior design, principles of color and lighting, a deep understanding of human factors, and the importance of sustainability in the built environment.

Claire has passed the LEED AP examination, making her one of eight Accredited Professionals of the USGBC's Leadership in Energy and Environmental Design program at Western Contract. She is also accredited by the State of California as a Certified Interior Designer.
